2010 Annual Security & Fire Safety Report

Campus Safety & Security: "A Shared Responsibility"

Campus Safety and Security at the University of Pennsylvania is a shared responsibility. Clearly, the best protection against campus crime is an aware, informed, alert campus community—students, faculty and staff who use reason and caution—along with a strong law-enforcement presence.

The vast majority of our students, faculty, staff and visitors do not experience crime at the University of Pennsylvania. However, despite our best efforts, crimes sometimes occur. This information is provided because of our commitment to campus safety and security and in compliance with the federal law, The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act (The Clery Act), and the Pennsylvania Uniform Crime Reporting Act (formerly known as the College and University Security Information Act). It is meant to be useful to you. If you have concerns, questions or comments about federal or state law requirements or Penn's compliance with these laws, please contact the Vice President for Public Safety at (215) 898-7515.

The University of Pennsylvania Campus

The University of Pennsylvania is located just west of Center City Philadelphia on a 260 acre campus. The core of the Penn campus, between Walnut and Spruce Streets from 33rd to 40th Streets, is connected by a network of pedestrian walkways. Locust Walk, running from College Green to Hamilton Village, acts as both a major pedestrian thoroughfare and a hub of campus life for the entire Penn community. The specific perimeters of the Penn campus change from time to time. As such, the preceding description is meant to provide an approximation of the boundaries of the campus, but is in no way intended to detail the specific contour of the campus's frequently changing boundaries.

The Division of Public Safety

The Division of Public Safety is committed to enhancing the quality of life of the campus community, integrating the best practices of public and private policing with state-of-the-art security technology. Its 176 full-time employees and more than 500 contract employees work in six (6) departments that report to the Office of the Vice President: University Police, Special Services, Fire and Emergency Services, Security and Technical Services, Finance and Administration, and the Communications Center (PennComm).

Office of the Vice President (VPO)

Under the leadership of Vice President Maureen S. Rush, the Office of the Vice President, along with the Division's six (6) directors, facilitate the strategic and operational mission of the Division of Public Safety.

The Office of the Vice President manages all internal and external communication in conjunction with Penn's Office of University Communications. The office also designs, brands and distributes all safety and security collateral.

The Vice President is the chief liaison officer for city, state, and federal public safety agencies and collaborates daily with these agencies in an effort to ensure the highest level of safety and security for the University community.

University of Pennsylvania Police Department (UPPD)

The University of Pennsylvania Police Department (UPPD) maintains 24/7 police patrols on campus—by foot, car, motorcycle and bicycle. With a police force of 116 sworn officers, the UPPD is the largest private police force in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The UPPD also works closely with the Philadelphia Police Department (PPD), as both agencies patrol and respond in neighborhood areas west to 43rd Street, south to Baltimore Avenue, east to 30th Street and north to Market Street. University of Pennsylvania Police Officers have full law enforcement powers, including the authority to make arrests for criminal violations. University Police Officers are authorized by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Municipal Police Officers Act to carry firearms when on duty, and they do so. Otherwise, the possession of air rifles or pistols, firearms, ammunition, gunpowder or other dangerous articles or substances is strictly prohibited on Penn property or at University-sponsored events. Any exception to this rule must be approved by the Vice President for Public Safety.

University of Pennsylvania Police Officers have completed rigorous training prescribed by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania under the Municipal Police Officer's Education and Training Commission. Once an officer has completed police academy training, he or she participates in a Field Training Program, developed and coordinated through the Division of Public Safety. Officers remain in probationary status following graduation from the police academy and an annual in-service training is provided in accordance with established standards for continuing professional education for municipal police officers. The University of Pennsylvania Police Department received international accreditation from the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies (CALEA) on March 1, 2001 and was reaccredited for a third time on March 27, 2010. The University of Pennsylvania is the first university in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to receive this prestigious recognition and one of only 41 universities and colleges nationwide to achieve this honor.

The Chief of the UPPD serves as UPPD's law enforcement liaison with city, state and federal law enforcement officials and neighborhood town watch organizations, community and civic groups and the Police Athletic League. An existing Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) between the University of Pennsylvania Police Department and the Philadelphia Police Department clarifies the Penn Patrol boundaries as well as the roles and responsibilities of the University of Pennsylvania Police Department. Except for homicides, sexual assault investigations, and fatal automobile accidents, the UPPD handles all investigations.

The UPPD maintains a full-service detective unit headed by the department's Deputy Chief of Investigations. Criminal incidents are assigned to a detective within the Detective Unit, who is responsible for the investigation of the crime or coordination with the Philadelphia Police Department. If the incident involves a student who has violated policies, procedures, codes of conduct, or the law, the Penn Police will advise the victim or complainant of the option to report the incident to the Office of Student Conduct or the responsible University office. Consistent with legal requirements, information regarding persons arrested by University Police is available to the public.

PennComm

The Communications Center (PennComm) of the Division of Public Safety functions 24 hours a day, 365 days a year and uses modern technology to keep abreast of crime reported directly to the University of Pennsylvania Police Department and the Philadelphia Police Department. PennComm has access to the city police radio system as well as the city police Computer Aided Dispatch (CAD) which gathers information on all 9-1-1 calls made to the city police.

In addition, PennComm monitors all calls made for assistance from the Penn community that are received on the emergency 5-1-1 line, any of the more than 500 blue light phones or to the off campus emergency line, (215) 573-3333. University of Pennsylvania Police Officers assist the PPD in certain situations by responding to addresses or locations within the Penn Patrol Zone. University of Pennsylvania Police Detectives are also in regular contact with the 18th District of the PPD to obtain information, including information on addresses or locations owned or controlled by the University or associated with a recognized student organization, on criminal incidents reported to the PPD but not to the UPPD. All students, faculty and staff are encouraged to program the PennComm phone number, (215) 573-3333, into their cell phones in case of emergency.

Special Services

The Special Services Department, in conjunction with the University of Pennsylvania Detective Unit, provides over 200 safety workshops and forums each year to student groups, members of the faculty and the staff. Self-defense clinics and other workshops or special presentations can be designed to meet the particular needs of the group requesting services. Special Services personnel are available to consult with individuals or departments regarding crime prevention and safety issues and are available to offer assistance and support to victims of crime. Additionally, safety presentations can be found on the Division of Public Safety website at www.publicsafety.upenn.edu.

The department is headed by a Director, who serves as the University coordinator for support services for "sensitive crimes," such as rape or attempted rape, acquaintance rape, sexual or domestic violence. The Director serves on various University committees that review and develop policies on these and related issues. The Director also interacts with academic departments, College Houses, Housing and Conference Services, and many other divisions across the University, given the individual's authorization, to coordinate victim support services. Every effort is made to protect the confidentiality of all victims and/or complainants.

To contact the Special Services Department during normal business hours, call 8-4481 from a campus telephone or (215) 898-4481 from off-campus/cell phones. For emergency support 24 hours a day, seven days a week, call 8-6600 from a campus telephone or (215) 898-6600 from off-campus/cell phones. On evenings or weekends, PennComm will answer all calls to (215) 898-6600 and will notify Special Services personnel.

Fire and Emergency Services

The Department of Fire and Emergency Services (FES) manages the University's fire and emergency services programs, working in collaboration with the City of Philadelphia Departments of Fire and Licenses and Inspections to monitor and enhance compliance with local, state and federal codes through periodic building inspections. Under the direction of a Chief, FES serves as the lead agency for the University's Crisis and Emergency planning functions by preparing people to respond appropriately in the event of an emergency and to oversee the readiness of all campus building life safety systems and equipment. In addition to its planning functions, FES liaisons with governmental agencies, organizations in University City, the schools and centers at Penn and all members of the Division of Public Safety to prevent, prepare for, respond to and recover from crisis events on or near the campus.

The department provides numerous additional services, including monitoring emergency drills, safety training to new students and employees, acting as the liaison with the University's property insurance carrier and developing building-specific crisis management action plan books. Fire and Emergency Services specialists work with the University's real estate partner, University City Associates (UCA) and the Office of Off-Campus Living, to help promote safety in off-campus residences.

To contact the Department of Fire and Emergency Services during normal business hours, call 3-7857 from a campus telephone or (215) 573-7857 from off-campus/cell phones. To contact the department in an emergency, dial 5-1-1 from a campus telephone, or dial (215) 573-3333 from off-campus/cell phones. On evenings or weekends, call PennComm at (215) 898-7297.

Security and Technical Services

The Director of Security and Technical Services has the primary responsibility for developing and implementing the University security management plan. The Security and Technical Services Department provides guidance and oversight for the design and installation of all electronic security for the University. The department also provides campus-wide electronic security systems administration and support. Currently, this includes emergency blue light telephones, building alarm systems, electronic access control systems and closed-circuit video (CCTV) monitoring for safety and security purposes.

The University of Pennsylvania retains AlliedBarton (Allied) to provide skilled security services on-campus and in the surrounding community. Allied security officers work in concert with the University Police, Philadelphia Police and the University City District (UCD), a special services district which encompasses the University and its surrounding neighborhoods, by providing highly visible, 24/7 foot, bicycle and motorized patrol services on-campus and in the Penn Patrol Zone. The PPD dedicates police officers to patrol within the UCD boundaries and UCD employs uniformed Ambassadors who serve as additional eyes and ears in the community. All Penn Police, as well as AlliedBarton security officers and UCD Ambassadors are in radio communication with PennComm Operations. Security officers do not carry weapons or have any powers of arrest; however both Penn and Philadelphia police have the lawful authority to arrest. However, security officers are assigned to screen access to student residences and other buildings and to provide security services at special events. Furthermore, PennComm operations has direct radio communication with the Philadelphia Police Department as well as all agencies who participate in the Multi Emergency Radio Network (MERN), fostering communication and collaboration among all agencies.

Security and Technical Services, AlliedBarton and the University City Ambassadors also provide walking escorts, UC Walk, to University City students, staff and faculty, 24/7. The walking escort boundaries are currently 30th Street to 50th Street, Spring Garden Street to Baltimore Avenue. To request a walking escort from a campus phone dial 8-9255 (WALK) or from off-campus/cell phones dial (215) 898-9255 (WALK).

Report A Crime

PennComm of the Division of Public Safety is maintained 24 hours a day, seven days a week. All criminal and fire-related incidents should be reported to the Division of Public Safety for response and documentation. Incidents known in common parlance as Part I crimes that are identified to the Division of Public Safety are reported to the Philadelphia Police Department (PPD). Incidents known as Part I crimes that are identified to the Division of Public Safety are reported to the Philadelphia Police Department to ensure that all agencies charged with providing services are aware of these incidents.

The relationship and exchange of information with city, state and federal authorities are extremely important, and are ongoing processes. The PPD alerts the Division of Public Safety to reported incidents in the neighborhoods that are jointly patrolled by both University Police and the Philadelphia Police Department.

To report a crime or request information please contact PennComm, which is staffed 24/7, by trained dispatchers who support the UPPD in all emergency and non-emergency situations. PennComm can be reached by dialing 5-1-1 from a campus telephone, by using one of more than 500 blue light emergency telephones on campus and in the surrounding neighborhood or by dialing (215) 573-3333 from off-campus/cell phones.

You can also report a criminal incident in person at the Division of Public Safety, 4040 Chestnut Street, which is staffed with professional personnel, 24/7. Except for confidential communication made to pastoral counselors and licensed psychological counselors, all University employees are required to report any crime. Also it is important for University employees to report statistical information which may not include personnel identifiers. Confidential reports that provide sufficient detailed information for classification of the offense by law enforcement officials using FBI Uniform Crime Reporting Guidelines will be included in crime statistics.

The University of Pennsylvania Police Department maintains a computerized database for all reported criminal incidents, including those that occur on campus, those that occur in the surrounding neighborhood and those that occur well beyond the campus community. This data serves as the basis for crime statistics reported to the FBI Uniform Crime Reporting System, for compliance with The Clery Act and the Pennsylvania Uniform Crime Reporting Act and for reporting crime statistics to the campus community. Our annual report also includes data from non-police sources, including certain school officials.

The Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania and the Medical School use a uniformed security force that screens access and egress at public entrances to buildings and provides routine patrols of the facilities, 24/7.

Timely Warnings

When the Division of Public Safety becomes aware of criminal incidents as reported under the Clery Act that, in the judgment of the University's senior leadership, constitute an ongoing or continuing threat to the campus community, the Division of Public Safety issues a Crime Alert to notify the community. These Crime Alerts are disseminated via the Division of Public Safety website. Depending on the particular circumstances, a timely warning will be issued by the Division of Public Safety and the information may be disseminated by using one or a combination of the following: e-mail distribution; various campus publications; the Public Safety and University website; crime alerts; flyers posted at various locations on campus; and/or activation of the UPennAlert system which includes personal electronic devices, Penn Siren Outdoor System (Penn SOS) and/or digital displays to advise the community of the situation.

Emergency Preparedness: PennReady

Emergency preparedness at the University of Pennsylvania is managed under the PennReady program. Being PennReady means to prevent, prepare for, respond to and recover from any and all emergencies that could affect the Penn and University City communities. It means having a comprehensive plan extending from all levels of emergency personnel down through the individuals that make up our community to prevent situations that cause emergencies; it means preparing people on the procedures to follow should a crisis occur; it means having a well collaborated response approach from University officials and City, State and Federal agencies to effectively mitigate any crisis; and finally it means being ready and able to recover quickly from emergency events to keep Penn's mission actively moving forward.

Following the direction of the University of Pennsylvania Crisis Management Plan, the Blue Book Program was developed and put into action in the spring of 2006. Blue Books are building-specific crisis management action plans (C-MAP) examining all emergency preparedness aspects of campus buildings in the pre-emergency environment. These books document the readiness of the Penn community's response in an all-hazards approach to emergency management and provide information for emergency responders to manage a crisis event as it unfolds.

To view the Blue Book specific to your building contact your Building Administrator or Emergency Team Leader. Additionally, Blue Books are located on the Division of Public Safety website at www.publicsafety.upenn.edu.

Various drills are conducted throughout the year to familiarize students, faculty and staff with emergency procedures and individual roles. Each year FES facilitates five (5) emergency drills targeting all residential halls. All academic and administrative buildings undergo two (2) emergency drills each year, while all fraternities and sororities participate in two (2) emergency drills annually.

To learn more about the University's comprehensive PennReady Emergency Preparedness Program visit www.publicsafety.upenn.edu/pennready.

Emergency Notification System: UPennAlert and Penn Siren Outdoor System (PENN SOS)

The UPennAlert Emergency Notification System enables the University to quickly notify the Penn and surrounding Philadelphia community of critical information during a major emergency. This is accomplished through three (3) key delivery methods: Personal Electronic Devices; Siren and Public Address Systems; and Digital Displays.

Currently the University can notify all Penn faculty, staff and students via personal electronic devices (e.g., cell phones, pda handhelds, etc.) through text messaging, voicemail and email.

The University also has Siren and Public Address systems in place to send a UPennAlert. The Penn Siren Outdoor System (Penn SOS) is comprised of (13) speakers transmitting voice intelligible emergency messages and alert tones to the outdoor campus environment. Penn SOS is not designed to penetrate buildings, but will be audible above normal street noise.

When a UPennAlert is sent, the Division of Public Safety uses its website to provide current and continuous updates acting as a central reference point for accurate information. This method is useful for those both on- and off-campus.

UPennAlert is an additional layer of security and protection in emergency response, in conjunction with Penn's already well-established emergency communication methods, such as University-wide broadcast emails, online updates via the Penn homepage, coordinated use of public media outlets and public address systems within all College Houses.

The UPennAlert is only activated for serious emergencies which are confirmed by law enforcement personnel and with the approval of the University's senior leadership. The UPennAlert is not activated if in the professional judgment of the responsible authorities such a notification would compromise efforts to resolve the emergency. Once it is determined to send the UPennAlert the proper message is selected from several prescripted messages and sent to the appropriate audience. A UPennAlert can only be sent by one of several initiators who are trained by the Division of Public Safety. Furthermore, the UPennAlert is tested annually to ensure all faculty, staff and students are familiar with emergency alerts and what their individual roles are during an actual situation. Penn has also developed an optional process using the UPennAlert to notify parents, guardians, and significant others in an actual situation. Should the need occur to notify the City of Philadelphia and the surrounding neighborhoods of an emergency at the University, our UPennAlert system notifies the Managing Director's Office, who is responsible for sharing this information with appropriate city officials and neighborhoods.

Rape and Sexual Violence

For more than 30 years, the University of Pennsylvania has proactively addressed the issues of rape and sexual violence through seminars, forums and other presentations. Penn also conducts educational and training programs for employees who interact with students, including University police officers, coaches, student services personnel in the Office of University Life, members of the campus ministries and those who provide services in the student residences. The student groups 1 in 4 and ASAP (Abuse and Sexual Assault Prevention) present peer education workshops and sponsor awareness raising events across campus such as Penn's annual "Take Back the Night."

The University of Pennsylvania is currently a recipient of a Department of Justice grant to reduce domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking on campus. This grant funds the Penn Violence Prevention Program, which is run out of the Penn Women's Center in collaboration with Special Services, the Office of Alcohol and Other Drugs, and the Office of Student Conduct along with various campus and community partners. More information about Penn Violence Prevention Programs can be found at: www.vpul.upenn.edu/vawa.

Acquaintance rape is a form of sexual violence defined under our policy as any act in which a person forces another person with whom he or she is acquainted to engage in sexual activity against his or her will or without his or her consent. Assent does not constitute consent if it is given by a person who because of youth, mental disability or intoxication is unable to make a reasonable judgment. This policy applies to groups as well as individuals.

Support Services

Penn will provide support for victims of rape and any form of sexual violence, and is committed to providing resources and processes for prevention, education, reporting, adjudication, protection from retaliation and sanctions. The Director of Special Services at Penn is the designated coordinator of support services for individuals who have been victimized.

Any member of the community who is a victim of sexual violence is encouraged to seek support and assistance and to report the incident. When a victim of a sex offense contacts the Special Services Department, the individual will be advised of health, legal and other support services available on- and off-campus and the victim will be assisted in accessing these services. Available support may also include academic and housing accommodations if requested. Students are encouraged to contact the Special Services Department at 8-6600 from a campus telephone or (215) 898-6600 from off-campus/cell phones in order to report an incident confidentially. Students may also report an incident by dialing 5-1-1 from a campus telephone, by using one of more than 500 blue light emergency telephones on campus, and in the community or by dialing (215) 573-3333 from off-campus/cell phones. Further options are to discuss the incident with Counseling and Psychological Services by dialing 8-7021 from a campus telephone or (215) 898-7021 from off-campus/cell phones; or by contacting the Penn Women's Center by dialing 8-8611 from a campus telephone or (215) 898-8611 from off-campus/cell phones. Furthermore, victims may choose to contact the Philadelphia Police Department or any outside resource that provides counseling and support services.

Reporting Procedures

Due to sensitive issues involved in rape and other sexual assaults, the victim may disclose the incident some time after it has occurred, but the victim is nonetheless encouraged to contact Special Services for support and assistance and to report the incident as soon as possible.

Incidents that are reported to the appropriate departments at Penn will be addressed promptly and will be treated as discretely as possible. The procedures that govern the investigation of acquaintance rape will take into account both the need to gather the facts and the rights of all parties involved in the incident.

Those within the campus community who are found responsible for rape or other sexual violence are subject to University sanctions which can include but are not limited to suspension, expulsion, and/or separation from the University. In addition, an individual charged may be subject to prosecution by the Office of the District Attorney under Pennsylvania Criminal Statutes. In any University disciplinary proceeding involving charges of sexual assault, the accused and the accuser are entitled to the same opportunity to have others present during the proceeding and both the accused and the accuser are informed of the outcome of the proceeding.

To pursue criminal options, it is important to preserve evidence. If the victim elects to go through the criminal justice system and/or receive medical treatment, personnel from Special Services will accompany the victim to the sexual trauma unit at Thomas Jefferson University Hospital or the Episcopal Hospital for evaluation, treatment and/or evidence collection. Whether the victim chooses to report an incident of rape or sexual violence to the Special Services Department, the University Police Department or another resource center within the campus community, the victim will be informed of reporting options, including the right to report the incident fully and completely to the Philadelphia Police Department, or the right to file no report. If requested, University personnel will assist the individual in notifying appropriate authorities.

The Acquaintance Rape and Sexual Violence Policy is stated in the PennBook: Resources, Policies & Procedures, which is available online at www.vpul.upenn.edu/osl/acqrape.html.

The Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act, a federal law, requires institutions of higher education to advise the campus community where information concerning registered sex offenders may be obtained. In Pennsylvania, information about sexually violent predators is accessible at the following website: www.psp.state.pa.us. For more information about sex offender registration in Pennsylvania see www.pameganslaw.state.pa.us.

Alcohol and Drugs Policy

The University of Pennsylvania and its programs and policies, regarding the possession, sale and consumption of alcoholic beverages, encourages all within the campus community to make safe, responsible decisions about alcohol that are consistent with existing state and federal law. The possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages on campus by persons under the age of 21 is strictly prohibited by Penn and by the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Consistent with its educational mission, Penn provides programs that promote awareness of the physical, psychological, social and behavioral effects of alcohol consumption and drug use.

The use, sale or possession of narcotics and dangerous drugs is illegal and is strictly prohibited on campus.

Employees are required to adhere to the University's Drug-Free Workplace Policy, and the Alcohol and Other Drug Policy, which strictly prohibit the unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, sale, possession or use of drugs by its employees in the workplace. Those who violate these policies may be subject to disciplinary procedures or may be required to participate in alcohol or other drug rehabilitation programs.

Medical Attention

Medical attention is warranted whenever there is serious injury or illness related to alcohol consumption and/or drug use. In addition to medical attention, students, faculty and staff may benefit from professional counseling. Faculty/staff members seeking confidential counseling for alcohol or drug use should contact the Employee Assistance Program by calling 1 (888) 321-4433 to speak with a Penn Behavioral Health professional.

Students seeking confidential counseling for alcohol or drug use should contact the University's Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) office at (215) 898-7021 to make an appointment. These services adhere to all applicable laws governing the confidentiality of patient information.

Questions Regarding Alcohol and Drugs

Students who have questions or concerns about alcohol or other drugs are encouraged to use the medical and counseling resources provided by the University of Pennsylvania. In addition, the University provides brief intervention and educational services to students through the Office of Alcohol and Other Drug Program Initiatives (215) 573-3525. Any student can make a confidential appointment to talk about their concerns regarding alcohol, drugs and subsequent consequences.

In addition, all incoming undergraduate students are required to participate in a 60-minute online alcohol and violence education module. Information about this module can be provided by the Office of Alcohol and Other Drug Program Initiatives (215) 573-3525.

The Alcohol and Other Drug Policy is stated in the PennBook: Resources, Policies & Procedures, which is available online at www.vpul.upenn.edu/alcohol.

Commonwealth Law

Alcohol: A person less than 21 years of age commits a summary offense if he or she attempts to purchase, purchases, consumes, possesses or knowingly and intentionally transports any alcoholic beverage. A person who is convicted of violating this section may be subject to a fine, jail and/or license suspension.

Drugs: State law prohibits the unauthorized manufacture, sale, delivery and possession of controlled substances. Persons may be subject to 30 days imprisonment and a $500 fine for simple possession of a small amount of marijuana (misdemeanor), a maximum of 15 years imprisonment and a $25,000 fine for the manufacture, delivery or possession of a Schedule I or II controlled narcotic drug such as cocaine, PCP and LSD (felony). Sentences can be doubled for second and subsequent convictions. Sentences can also be doubled for distribution of controlled substances to persons under the age of 18. Penalties range from a mandatory minimum sentence of one year and a $5,000 fine for the first conviction or to a mandatory minimum sentence of seven years and a $50,000 fine for subsequent convictions for the manufacture, delivery or possession of 100 grams or more of a Schedule I or II controlled narcotic drug.

Disciplinary Policies

Any student who fails to comply with University policies or local, state or federal laws may be subject to discipline under the University Code of Student Conduct. Sanctions can include, but are not limited to, a reprimand, disciplinary probation, and withdrawal of privileges, suspension, and expulsion. When a student's presence on campus is considered a threat to order, health or safety, the Provost or his or her designee may impose a mandatory leave of absence or conditions on the student's attendance.

Generally, prospective students are asked about previous criminal records. Employees are also required to disclose any and all convictions for a felony, crime of violence, dishonesty or crime against property or involving the threat of violence. A criminal record, if relevant to the position in question, is a factor considered in the employment process.

The University's student disciplinary procedures are described in the PennBook: Resources, Policies & Procedures, which is available online at www.upenn.edu/osc/procedures.html.

Missing Persons

In the event that a student, faculty or staff member is reported as missing, the UPPD follows specific steps, described below, to investigate that person's location. For the University of Pennsylvania's full Missing Person policy through the Vice Provost for University Life (VPUL) consult the Penn Book at www.vpul.upenn.edu/osl/pennbook.html or www.publicsafety.upenn.edu/.

The University of Pennsylvania strongly recommends all students to register confidential contact information in the event that a student over the age of 18 years is determined missing for a period of more than 24 hours. To register a contact person on Penn InTouch start at the Penn Homepage at: www.upenn.edu. On the bottom left of the screen, click on the link for "Current Students" which will take you to the Penn Portal. Log into the Penn Portal using your PennKey. Clicking this link will take you to the Emergency contact page where you will see two tabs: "Student emergency contact" and "Other Emergency or Missing Person Contact." Choose the tab titled "Other Emergency or Missing Person Contact" to fill in emergency contact information which is optional and used only to contact the person you list if you are reported missing. This information will be kept confidential and will be accessible only to authorized campus and law enforcement officials.

Reporting Missing Persons

The University of Pennsylvania Police Department thoroughly investigates all persons including students reported as missing whether they reside on or off-campus. To report a missing person dial 5-1-1 from a campus telephone, use one of more than 500 blue light emergency telephones on campus and in the surrounding neighborhood or dial (215) 573-3333 from off-campus/cell phones. You also can report a missing person in person at the Division of Public Safety, 4040 Chestnut Street, which is staffed with professional personnel, 24/7. Additionally, you can also request assistance from an AlliedBarton Security Officer or uniformed police officer on patrol or dial 9-1-1.

If the Missing Person is a student, Public Safety will follow these procedures:

The PennComm Police Supervisor, upon confirmation that a student is missing and cannot be located, shall notify the Office of the Vice Provost for University Life.

If the missing student resides in on-campus housing, the PennComm Police Supervisor will notify the Resident Advisor (RA) or the House Dean for the area in which the student is housed. The RA should be directed to contact neighbors and friends in the immediate vicinity of the student's room and report any findings to UPPD.

If the missing student residing on-campus has been missing for more than 24 hours, UPPD will notify the student's designated emergency contact which is maintained in the University Management Information Services (UMIS) database.

If the student is under 18 years old, the UPPD will immediately notify a custodial parent or legal guardian; and the missing student will be entered into the National Crime Information Center by the UPPD Detective Unit.

If a student over 18 years old has not designated an emergency contact, the law enforcement agency where the student's primary residence is located will be notified. All notifications as mentioned in this section will be made by the Director of Special Services or his/her designee.

If the student lives at a fraternity or sorority, the PennComm Police Supervisor will contact the Office of Fraternity and Sorority Affairs for assistance in obtaining information about the person's possible whereabouts.

For international students, the PennComm Police Supervisor will contact the Office of International Programs for assistance.

The PennComm Police Supervisor will also check hospital admissions and the Philadelphia Police Department for further information regarding the missing person. Further, the PennComm Police Supervisor will also contact Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) in the event that the student has been receiving counseling, as well as Student Health Services and Out Patient Emergency Rooms in area hospitals.

If the student lives off-campus, the PennComm Police Supervisor will contact the Director of Off-Campus Living, who will contact the landlord of the property to obtain the names of neighbors or fellow residents, assuming this information is not already known. The landlord shall be asked to accompany UPPD officers to the apartment of the missing student.

If the student has not been located within a reasonable amount of time, the Office of the Vice Provost for University Life (VPUL) may contact the student's parents or others for additional assistance.

Student Residences

The University of Pennsylvania offers a variety of housing options on campus, ranging from the undergraduate College House system to graduate apartments. Fraternities and sororities are located both on- and off-campus. Penn's College House system is designed to enhance the undergraduate experience for all residents through faculty-directed, academically supportive environments that promote intellectual, social and recreational opportunities. Sansom Place East and Sansom Place West house undergraduate, graduate and professional students. If you have questions on room assignments or rent charges, call (215) 898-8271; questions or concerns about residential services, call (215) 898-3547; or questions about the College House programs, call (215) 898-5551.

The Division of Public Safety has regular contact with those responsible for the campus grounds and lighting to ensure that the shrubs, bushes and greenery throughout the campus are appropriate and well maintained and that campus lighting is appropriate.

2009-2010 Academic Year

Undergraduate Student Enrollment: 11,954
Graduate & Professional Student Enrollment:
Graduate: 10,037 and
Professional: 2,609 12,646
Undergraduate Students in Campus Housing: 5,786
Graduate & Professional Students in Campus Housing: 634
Non-student Employees: 20,902

Housing for first-year undergraduate students is assigned by computer program with the exception of the residential programs that require an essay. For those applications received by the application deadline in early May, the program attempts to assign students to one of their choices. Students applying after the deadline, including all transfer students, are processed in order of the receipt of their application. Returning upper-class students are assigned housing through a room-selection process during February and March.

Returning graduate students apply to renew their housing in March. New graduate and professional students are assigned housing in order of the receipt of their application. Room changes are made during designated periods each semester if space is available. The dates are posted on Housing's website (www.business-services.upenn.edu/housing). Emergency room changes can be made at any time upon the recommendation of a member of the College House staff.

Security of Residence

The University of Pennsylvania maintains three (3) undergraduate College Houses (Harnwell, Harrison, and Rodin) and Sansom Place East and West as open residences during the winter break between semesters. Access to residential facilities is limited to students and authorized personnel between certain hours. All visitors must be signed in by a host resident who assumes responsibility for his/her visitor. Those without a valid PennCard are considered visitors and will be admitted only after the presentation of valid identification and with the approval of their hosts. Most student rooms are equipped with dead bolt or Mortis locks with anti-carding devices.

Use of Facilities

The facilities at the University of Pennsylvania exist to house or support the tripartite mission of the institution: teaching, research and service. The use of these facilities is given by University groups and by approved non-University organizations under certain circumstances. Permission to use these facilities does not constitute University endorsement of the activities held in the facilities. The policy on Use of Facilities is stated in the PennBook: Resources, Policies & Procedures, which is available online at www.vpul.upenn.edu/osl/faciluse.html. If you have questions on the Use of Facilities at Penn, please contact the Executive Director of the Office of Student Affairs by dialing 8-6533 from a campus telephone or (215) 898-6533 from off-campus/cell phones.

The Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania

The Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania (HUP) maintains a proprietary security department that is committed to providing a safe and secure environment in hospital facilities, and for its patients, staff and visitors. All HUP Security Officers are Pennsylvania Act 235 certified; this 40-hour accreditation process is the only recognized professional training curriculum in the Commonwealth for Private Security. Security officers are stationed at the major entrances to the hospital and engage in regular patrols of the facilities. In addition to internal patrol, HUP security recently established a Bike Patrol Unit. This unit, patrolling between the hours of 5 p.m. to 1 a.m., weekdays, is a welcomed addition to HUP's overall security plan. Officers respond to all requests for assistance, whether routine or emergency. An Operations Center of the Security Department is maintained 24/7, monitoring the CCTV/Controlled Access System, as well as safety and security alarms. In an emergency, please contact the HUP Security Department by dialing 2677 (COPS) from a hospital telephone or (215) 662-2677 from outside the hospital.

Security Department at HUP

The Security Department at HUP, Penn Tower, and the Perelman Center for Advanced Medicine consists of more than 70 employees. Security Administration consists of the Director of Security, who is responsible for all functions of the HUP Security Department, as well as a Security Operations Manager, Systems Coordinator, and a Photo ID Clerk who manages the Photo ID/Controlled Access System. Security Operations consists of 66 uniformed officers on three shifts, all of whom are supervised by a sergeant with support by a corporal. Security Operations, located on the ground floor of Silverstein Pavilion, just inside the entrance to the Emergency Department, is responsible for providing safety and security services 24/7 and responding to requests for routine and emergency services. The HUP Security Department, when necessary, coordinates its activities with the University of Pennsylvania Police Department and the Philadelphia Police Department.

Reporting Crime at HUP

All criminal incidents and requests for assistance should be reported to the Security Operations Center. The HUP Security Department reports all criminal activity as well as other data to the Hospital's Environment of Care Committee, which reports data to the Health System Board of Trustees on a quarterly basis. The HUP Security Department also reports criminal statistics to the University of Pennsylvania Police Department. In order to report a criminal incident at HUP, dial 2677 (COPS) from a hospital telephone or (215) 662-2677 from outside the hospital.

Access to HUP

Security monitors all major entrances to HUP during normal hours. After hours entrance to HUP is restricted to the Emergency Department entrance.

Security Education at HUP

Crime prevention programs and security awareness education are presented annually to the HUP staff, and, when necessary, on a departmental basis.

Penn Presbyterian Medical Center

Presbyterian is committed to providing a safe and secure environment for the hospital faculty, patients, visitors, and staff. To that end, Presbyterian maintains a Security Department comprised of two sections:

Security Administration, consisting of the Director of Security who is responsible for all functions of the Presbyterian Security Department and managing all security officers and Information Desk Receptionists and an Operations Manager, who assists the director.

Security Operations consist of uniformed officers divided into three (3) shifts. The Security Command Center is located in the Wright/Saunders Building at the Powelton Avenue Entrance, adjacent to the Emergency Department. Security Operations is responsible for providing security and safety services 24/7, and responds to all security and safety related requests for both routine and emergency services. The Security Command Center operates 24/7. The officer assigned to the Command Center monitors the CCTV/Controlled Access System as well as safety and security alarms. Bike officers patrols the campus at various times, 7 days a week. The Director of Security and the Security Operations Manager have day-to-day responsibility for the Operations Center.

To contact Presbyterian Security in an emergency or to request assistance, dial extension 8085 or 8238 from a hospital telephone or (215) 662-8085 or (215) 662-8238 from outside the hospital.

Reporting Crime at Presbyterian

All criminal incidents, suspicious activity, safety issues and requests for assistance should be reported to the Security Command Center at the Powelton Avenue entrance to the Wright/Saunders Building, which is in operation 24/7. Security reports all incidents; criminal, safety, and violations of hospital policies and procedures, as well as other data and statistics to the Environment of Care Committee on a monthly basis.

Access to Presbyterian

Security officers monitor all entrances during normal hours and restrict entry into the hospital after normal hours to the Wright/Saunders Building—Powelton Avenue Entrance across from the Emergency Department Entrance.

Security Education for Presbyterian

Security Awareness and Crime Prevention training programs are presented to hospital staff annually as well as on a departmental basis as requested.

Services Provided

Presbyterian Photo Identification and Card Access Control: Penn Presbyterian Medical Center provides all employees, faculty and staff with photo identification cards that are also used as card keys to access and travel throughout the campus. The Photo Identification Center is located in the Wright/Saunders Building - Room W120. The hours of operation are Monday through Friday—8 a.m. until noon. There is a replacement charge of $10 for any lost ID cards.

Assistance and escorts to and from facility parking areas for employees is available upon request. Employees, faculty and staff may also utilize escort services provide by the University at (215) 898-RIDE (7433) or (215) 898-WALK (9255).

Crime Prevention Education and Awareness

The Division of Public Safety is available to provide seminars, forums and other presentations on campus safety and security to those living in student residences. Campus safety and security is discussed as a matter of course at College House meetings. These programs include, but are not limited to:

Rape Aggression Defense (RAD)

The Rape Aggression Defense (RAD) System is a program of realistic, self-defense tactics and techniques. The RAD System is a comprehensive course for women which begins with awareness, prevention, risk reduction and avoidance, and progresses to the basics of hands-on defense training. RAD is not a martial arts program. Courses are taught by certified RAD instructors and participants are provided with a workbook/reference manual. This manual outlines the entire physical defense program for reference and continuous personal growth. The RAD system of physical defense is currently being taught at many colleges and universities across the nation. The growing, wide-spread acceptance of this system is primarily due to the ease, simplicity and effectiveness of the tactics, solid research, legal defensibility and unique teaching methodology. The system of realistic defense is intended to provide a woman with the knowledge to make an educated decision about resistance.

To learn more about RAD and see the current schedule visit:
www.publicsafety.upenn.edu/SS_RAD.asp

Resisting Aggression with Defense (RAD for Men)

Resisting Aggression with Defense classes, (RAD for Men), are also offered and taught by certified RAD instructors. For information regarding these clinics, contact Special Services at 215-898-4481.

Self-Defense Awareness & Familiarization Exchange (S.A.F.E.)

'S.A.F.E.' is an unparalleled 2-hour educational awareness, crime-victim prevention program—encompassing strategies, techniques, options, and prevention—that provides teenaged and adult women with information that may reduce their risk of exposure to violence and introduces them to the physical aspects of self-defense.

UPPD Liaison Program

For the Penn community in particular, UPPD commanders, supervisors and detectives have institutionalized a liaison relationship with various resource centers and divisions, in which assigned members of the UPPD meet regularly with academic and administrative leaders to provide support, answer questions, and function as a first responder to problems and concerns associated with each respective entity.

PennReady and Emergency Preparedness Training

PennReady and Emergency Preparedness Training information appears under the Emergency Preparedness Section of this report.

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act (The Clery Act)

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act (The Clery Act) requires Penn to provide students and employees with information on its security policies and procedures and specific statistics for certain criminal incidents, arrests and disciplinary referrals and to make the information and statistics available to prospective students and employees upon request. This information is available by calling the Division of Public Safety Special Services Department at (215) 898-4481 or online at www.publicsafety.upenn.edu/clery.asp.

It is important to note that the crime classifications for which colleges and universities must provide statistics differ under state and federal law. Statistics for certain crime classifications might appear to be different. For example, the federal statistics for motor vehicle theft differ from the state statistics for the same category because the federal classification includes attempted motor vehicle thefts, while state law requires institutions to separately report attempted motor vehicle thefts.

Hate Crimes

The law requires the release of statistics by category of prejudice concerning the occurrence of hate crimes in the crime classifications listed in the preceding section and for other crimes involving bodily injury to any person in which the victim is selected because of the actual or perceived race, gender, religion, sexual orientation, ethnicity, or disability of the victim.

In August of 2008 HEOA S 488, 20 U.S.C. S 1092 (f) (1) F (ii) modified the above hate crimes to include the following additional crimes under the hate crime category:

Larceny Theft: The unlawful taking, carrying, leading, or riding away of property from the possession, or constructive possession, of another.

Threats: Intimidation (Includes Stalking) To unlawfully place another person in reasonable fear of bodily harm through the use of threatening words and/or other conduct, but without displaying a weapon or subjecting the victim to actual physical attack.

Vandalism: To willfully or maliciously destroy, damage, deface, or otherwise injure real or personal property without the consent of the owner or the person having custody or control of it.

Simple Assault: An unlawful physical attack by one person upon another where neither the offender displays a weapon, nor the victim suffers obvious severe or aggrieved bodily injury involving apparent broken bones, loss of teeth, possible internal injury, severe laceration, or loss of consciousness.

Campus Crime Statistics for the University of Pennsylvania

The law requires statistics for an expanded area beyond the campus and it requires these statistics to be shown in specific geographic categories. (Note that incidents shown in the On-Campus Residential category are also included in the statistics shown in the Campus* category.) The following statistics are provided in compliance with the specific time periods, crime classifications, geographic categories and arrest data mandated by federal law.

*The Clery Act defines Campus as "any building or property owned or controlled by an institution of higher education within the same reasonably contiguous geographic area of the institution and used by the institution in direct support of, or in a manner related to, the institution's educational purposes, including residence halls; and property within the same reasonably contiguous geographic area of the institution and is owned by the institution but controlled by another person, is used by students, and supports the institutional purposes, such as a food or other retail vendor." On-Campus Residential is a sub-category of Campus showing the number of on-campus incidents that occur "in dormitories or other residential facilities for students on campus." The law defines Non-Campus Building or Property as "any building or property owned or controlled by a student organization recognized by the institution; and any building or property, other than a branch campus, owned or controlled by an institution of higher education that is used in direct support of, or in relation to, the institution's educational purposes, is used by students, and is not within the same reasonable contiguous geographic area of the institution." It defines Public Property as "all public property that is within the same reasonably contiguous geographic area of the institution, such as a sidewalk, a street, other thoroughfare or parking facility, and is adjacent to a facility owned or controlled by the institution if the facility is used by the institution in direct support of, or in a manner related to the institution's educational purposes."

Crime Statistics for Non-contiguous Properties of the University of Pennsylvania

The Clery Act, as amended, requires separate statistics for specified criminal incidents, arrests and disciplinary referrals for certain non-contiguous properties. The following statistics include reportable crime at four non-contiguous properties specified for inclusion in this report for the period January 1, 2006 through December 31, 2008. These statistics conform to the specific definitions, time period and classifications specified by federal law.

Daily Crime and Fire Log

The Division of Public Safety maintains a combined Daily Crime and Fire Log of all incidents reported to the Division of Public Safety. This includes all crimes, fire-related incidents and other serious incidents that occur on campus, including areas jointly patrolled by the University Police and the Philadelphia Police Department, in non-campus buildings or properties, on public property or within the Penn Patrol Zone.

The Daily Crime and Fire Log includes the incident type, date incident is reported, date and time of occurrence, and general location of each reported incident type, as well as the disposition of the incident, if this information is known. The Division of Public Safety posts specific incidents in the Daily Crime and Fire Log within two (2) business days of receiving a report of an incident and reserves the right to exclude reports from a log in certain circumstances as permitted by law.

The most current 60 days of information is available on a kiosk in the lobby of the Division of Public Safety headquarters, located at 4040 Chestnut Street. In addition, a seven (7) day Daily Crime and Fire Log is available for public inspection online at www.publicsafety.upenn.edu. The Division of Public Safety also maintains a seven (7) year archive of the Daily Crime and Fire Log.*

The Division of Public Safety also submits the Daily Crime and Fire Log to the University of Pennsylvania's journal of record, Almanac, to be published weekly and is also available online at www.upenn.edu/almanac/crimes-index.html. Upon request, the Daily Crime and Fire Log, including incident descriptions, is provided weekly to The Daily Pennsylvanian, which can be viewed online at www.dailypennsylvanian.com.

*Due to HEOA requirements of August 2007 the Division of Public Safety began incorporating and archiving reported fire information starting in calendar year 2008.

Annual Fire Safety Report

The Higher Education Opportunity Act (HEOA) requires two (2) new safety-related requirements on institutions that participate in federal student financial aid programs which follow:

1. Fire Log: Institutions must keep a fire log that states the nature of the fire, date, time, and general location of each fire in on-campus student housing facilities. The University of Pennsylvania complies with this rule by including all fire-related incidents in the Daily Crime and Fire Log. To view the most recent seven (7) days of information please visit the DPS website for daily crime and fire-related incidents at: www.publicsafety.upenn.edu/crimelog/dailycrime.asp. The public can also view the most recent 60 days of crime and fire-related incidents by visiting the kiosk in the lobby of 4040 Chestnut Street. Requests for information older than 60 days must be directed to the Vice President of the Division of Public Safety. Information will be made available within two (2) business days of a request for public inspection.

2. Annual Fire Safety Report: Institutions with on-campus student housing facilities must publish annually a fire safety report that provides information on campus fire safety practices and standards. The University of Pennsylvania complies with this regulation by including all fire-related incidents at on-campus student housing facilities as part of the Annual Security & Fire Safety Report. Information contained in this annual fire safety report includes: number and cause of fires at all on-campus student housing facilities; number of fire-related deaths; related injuries; value of fire-related property damage; information on evacuation procedures; fire safety education and training programs; fire safety systems in each student housing facility; number of regular mandatory supervised fire drills; and policies on portable electrical appliance, smoking and open flames. The Annual Security & Fire Safety Report must include three (3) years of data.*

*Revisions to the Higher Education Opportunity Act (HEOA) for Fire Safety and reporting were proposed in 2008. Therefore, only two years of data are currently available.

If a fire occurs in any building, community members should immediately notify Public Safety by dialing 5-1-1 from a land line phone or (215) 573-3333 from any cell phone. Public Safety will initiate a response as the department has a direct dial phone line to the Philadelphia Fire Department and can summon the fire department quickly through this method of communication. If a member of the Penn community finds evidence of a fire that has been extinguished, and the person is not sure whether Public Safety has already responded, the community member should immediately notify Public Safety to investigate and document the incident.

The campus fire alarm systems alert community members of potential hazards. Community members are required to heed an activated fire alarm system, and evacuate a building immediately. Use the nearest available exit to evacuate the building. Gather outside at either the primary or secondary Building Area of Refuge (BAR) as noted on the building's Emergency Preparedness Bulletin. Community members should familiarize themselves with the exits in each building.

When a fire alarm is activated, the elevators in most buildings will automatically recall to a pre-designated fire safe floor. Occupants should use the stairs to evacuate the building. If you are caught in the elevator, push the emergency phone button. The emergency phones in elevators on campus ring to a dispatcher working inside of the PennComm Center within the Division of Public Safety.

Fire Protection Equipment/Systems

All residential buildings, fraternities, sororities and University buildings are equipped with automatic fire detection and alarm systems which are monitored by PennComm at the Division of Public Safety, 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

Health and Safety Inspections

The Department of Housing Services performs residential inspections at mid-year, usually during the winter break. Residents are notified beforehand of the inspection process. The inspections are conducted to identify safety violations as well as conditions which may be detrimental to the health or well being of the wider residential community.

The inspections include a visual examination of electrical cords, sprinkler heads, smoke detectors and other life safety systems. In addition, each room is examined for the presence of prohibited items such as candles, halogen lamps, open coiled appliances, pets, etc. Rooms are also examined for evidence of prohibited activity such as smoking in the room, removal of door closers, unauthorized door locking or alarm mechanisms, removal of security screens or other equipment, tampering with life safety equipment, etc. This inspection also includes a general assessment of cleanliness of the room, including food and waste storage.

Conditions warranting follow up are reported to the residential program staff, e.g., College House Dean or Director of Sansom Place, for follow up. Those residential staff are expected to communicate with those residents, apply sanctions which can range from fines to expulsion from housing; and to document such follow up.

The resident's signature on the Housing Services Occupancy Agreement, required in order to take occupancy, signifies their acceptance of and responsibility for abiding by residential and University policies as provided through all printed publications, web sites, email and other vehicles. Specific Health and Safety policies and procedures are outlined in the Residential Handbook as well as the Occupancy Agreement. Per the agreement, Housing Services may enter any room at any time for the purposes of inspection, establishment of order, maintenance, extermination, inventory correction, cleaning, or in case of emergency or other reasonable purposes.

Fire Definitions

This includes first responders attempting to control the fire, attempting a rescue, or persons escaping from the fire scene. Persons may include students, faculty, staff, visitors, firefighters, or any other individuals.

Estimated U.S. Dollar Loss Related to Fire Incidents: Estimated total U.S. dollar loss of both contents and structure or property destroyed because of a fire incident, not loss of business.

Evacuation Procedures Posted: When a fire alarm is activated, evacuation is mandatory. DO NOT use elevators; evacuate the building using the nearest available exit and proceed to the Building Area of Refuge (B.A.R.) to begin an accountability and assessment process.

Fire Alarms Monitored by PennComm: Fire alarms are monitored 24 hours a day, seven days a week, 52 weeks a year within the Division of Public Safety by PennComm Dispatchers.

Fire Safety Training Programs Delivered: Number of training programs delivered by Fire and Emergency Services or other responsible persons of authority within the University or city of Philadelphia to occupants of residence halls, fraternities and sororities concerning fire prevention and preparedness.

Buildings Equipped with Fire Alarm Systems and Smoke Detectors: Buildings that have functional fire alarm systems and smoke detectors installed. Please note, all residence halls, fraternities and sororities are equipped with a functional fire alarm system and smoke detectors.

Buildings Protected with Automatic Sprinkler System Throughout: Indicates an automatic sprinkler system protects all areas of a building. Please note, all residence halls, fraternities and sororities are equipped with sprinkler systems throughout. Residence Halls have wet-pipe automatic sprinkler systems and all fraternity and sororities have automatic sprinkler systems with most being dry pipe sprinkler systems.

Emergency Evacuation Drills (formerly known as Fire Drills): The number of supervised scheduled drills or actual events at campus residence halls, fraternities or sororities that are facilitated and certified by the Division of Public Safety's Fire and Emergency Services (FES) in cooperation with assigned University building personnel. Various drills are conducted throughout the year to familiarize students, faculty and staff with emergency procedures and individual roles. Each year FES facilitates five (5) emergency drills targeting all residential halls. All academic and administrative buildings undergo two (2) emergency drills each year, while all fraternities and sororities participate in two (2) emergency drills annually.

Fire Policies for On-Campus Student Housing Facilities

1. Portable Electrical Appliances: Hot plates, halogen lamps, immersion coils, air conditioners, freezers, dishwashers, washing machines, and open-coil appliances are prohibited in University residences as they pose a threat of electrical overload and/or fire.

Space heaters may only be used when installed by Facilities Services.

Microwaves, computers, stereos, televisions, radios, irons, non-commercial hairdryers, and other similar appliances are permitted, unless specifically prohibited by the residence staff. All appliances must have a manufacturer's label that show the electrical ratings and listing by a nationally recognized testing laboratory (e.g., ETL, UL, etc). We strongly recommend the use of surge protectors(s).

Microfridges may be rented from Campus Services Incorporated, see the Housing website for contact information. No more than one refrigerator may be installed per room or apartment, not including those provided by the University.

Caution should be taken to prevent fire hazards resulting from excessive use of appliances and over-dependence on power strips and extension cords.

Lamps: A Special Safety Advisory – The use of halogen lamps is prohibited.

- Carefully read all safety instructions and warnings that accompany any lamp.
- Never use bulbs of a higher wattage or of a different style than is recommended by the manufacturer's instruction.
- Never remove or discard a bulb that is hot to the touch; don't try to operate a lamp that has damaged or missing parts.
- Do not place lamps near clothing, draperies, or bedding, as incidental contact with the lamp bulb could ignite the material. Keeps lamps away from windows, bunk beds, and closets.
- NEVER place materials such as towels or clothing on top of lamps.
- Avoid placing lamps in locations where they may be knocked over.
- Always remember to turn off or unplug any lamp when changing bulbs or when leaving your room/apartment.
- Taking proper precautions and guarding against potential hazards posed by lamps will help ensure community safety.

Smoking: Smoking, including hookahs and other smoking paraphernalia, is prohibited in all residential buildings, and outdoors within 20 feet of windows and doors. Some houses have additional restrictions. Those who violate this policy may face disciplinary actions, fines, and possible termination of their Housing Agreement.

Open Flames: Fire or smoke producing articles, such as Bunsen burners, portable stoves, kerosene lamps, cut trees, incense and candles are prohibited in residence. Possession of hibachis, barbecue grills, smokers, potpourri burning units or other fire-starting devices/substances is prohibited in residences, as is their use in residential areas or adjacent outdoor space without staff supervision. Violators are subject to judicial action and criminal prosecution.

In the few areas where there is a functional fireplace, student must obtain approval for use. Before staring a fire, remove all combustible materials from the area and be sure the flue is open. Keep a screen in front of the fireplace while the fire is burning. Do not use liquid fuel starter and when using paper, limit the amount to avoid quick acceleration that could cause a flare up.

The Pennsylvania Uniform Crime Reporting Act

The Pennsylvania Uniform Crime Reporting Act requires the release of crime statistics and rates to students and employees, and it requires that those statistics be available to applicants and new employees upon request. The rate is based on the actual number of Full Time Equivalent (FTE) students and employees, calculated according to a state-mandated formula. The index in the table below is based on incidents per 100,000 FTEs. The University's FTE population for 2007 was 45,421, for 2008 was 45,453 and for 2009 was 45,404. NOTE: The statistics reflect an expanded geographic area beyond the campus.
