

AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT OF 1990

The Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 (expanded with the ADA Amendments Act of 2008) prohibits discrimination against disabled workers or job applicants. The Act emphasizes that the definition of disability should be construed in favor of broad coverage of individuals to the maximum extent permitted by the terms of the ADA and generally shall not require extensive analysis. The ADA is the civil rights guarantee for persons with disabilities in the United States. It provides protection from discrimination for individuals on the basis of disability.
