Harold L. Zellerbach last year.

Harold L. Zellerbach, 1894-1978
Harold L. Zellerbach, emeritus life trustee and long-time patron of the University in whose honor the Zellerbach Theater was named, died January 29 at the age of 83.

A prominent industrialist and patron of the arts, Mr. Zellerbach headed for 50 years the Crown Zellerbach Corporation, a paper company begun by his grandfather in 1870.

Mr. Zellerbach received his bachelor's degree in economics from the University in 1917. More than 50 years later, in May, 1974, he was awarded the honorary degree Doctor of Laws. That citation read, in part, "His devotion to education has brought his University attentiveness that goes far beyond his role as a Trustee."

Devoted to the Arts
Mr. Zellerbach was known for his devotion to the arts. In 1968, the Harold and Doris Zellerbach fund contributed $500,000 towards the building of the University theater that bears the family name. A few years later, in 1976, the Zellerbach Family Professorship in the Performing and Dramatic Arts was established through another contribution from the Zellerbach family, to help bolster the University's academic concentration in the theater arts.

In addition to his gifts to Penn, Mr. Zellerbach helped finance a campus theater at the University of California at Berkeley and contributed a substantial sum towards the construction of a new performing arts center in San Francisco. His name appeared as board member or president of a number of cultural, civic, educational and religious organizations, among them the San Francisco Art Commission, for which he served as president for 28 years.

Indispensable Support
Stephen Goff, managing director of the Annenberg Center, said of Mr. Zellerbach, "His gift to the building fund was, of course, indispensable, and his support of the University has been of substantial continuing importance. But above that we valued his steadfast interest in our activities... We are proud that his name will be with us in perpetuity in the Zellerbach Theater."

Council: Feb. 8 Agenda Set
The University Council will meet Wednesday, February 8, from 4 to 6 p.m. in the Council Room of the Furness Building. Agenda items include: reports from the president, provost and chairman of the Steering Committee; a progress report on "Guidelines for Admissions Policies and Procedures at the University of Pennsylvania"; and a discussion of the responsibility center budget system. The admissions policies guidelines will appear in Almanac when a final draft is completed.

Construction to Begin on Blanche Levy Park
Construction of the Blanche Levy Park on College Hall Green is scheduled to begin in late February or early March, according to Fred A. Shabel, vice-president for Operational Services.

Basic construction work will take about six months, with plantings and topsoil to be installed in September and October—the prime planting season.

As part of the relocation of walkways and the development of new plantings, several large trees will be removed, while others will be pruned. The Landscape Architecture Department of the Graduate School of Fine Arts and the staff of the Morris Arboretum will provide technical supervision.

"The trees scheduled to be removed are either damaged or diseased," according to Peter Shepheard, dean of the Graduate School of Fine Arts, who headed the faculty team which developed the Blanche Levy Park concept. "The number of trees removed will be more than offset by new plantings of healthy trees," Shepheard said.

Construction is being financed by a $1 million restricted gift from Blanche Levy for the specific purpose of "creating a beautiful space at the heart of the University." The funds are not available for any other purpose and do not affect the University's current operating budget, Shabel said.

College Hall Green as it will appear when landscape work is completed next August.

Latest Development Campaign Figures Released
Donations to the University's Program for the Eighties development campaign totalled $137,079,985 as of January 27, or 54 percent of the final goal, according to statistics released last week.

Individuals have given $69,176,240, or 52 percent of the goal; $19,849,035—59 percent of the $33,700,000 target—have been received from corporations; while foundations have contributed an even 50 percent, or $35,312,886, of their goal; and 69 percent, or $12,741,824 has been received from associations.

The development drive, begun in 1975, is aiming at a figure of $255 million.
Brookhaven Project Gets Presidential Go-Ahead

President Jimmy Carter has recommended authorization for the construction of the Isabelle accelerator, a major physics research project proposed by the Department of Energy, to be located at Brookhaven National Laboratory, a non-profit, research management organization sponsored by nine universities, Pennsylvania among them.

The Isabelle accelerator, whose construction period is estimated at seven years, will be the world's highest energy accelerator for physics research. Congress has already appropriated $5 million for the current fiscal year 1978 for the detailed design of the accelerator.

According to scientific reports, the most important new feature of Isabelle, an intersecting storage accelerator, is the use of superconducting magnets which will facilitate the production of energy amounts up to 13 times higher than can now be achieved. The superconducting technology has applications in industry as well as in electric power transmission.

University members of Associated Universities, Inc. (AUI), which operates Brookhaven under a contract with the U.S. Energy Research and Development Administration, include: Columbia, Cornell, Harvard, Johns Hopkins, M.I.T., Princeton, University of Pennsylvania, Rochester and Yale.

Senate Nominating Committee Elected

Since no additional nominations by petition have been received within the allotted time, the Advisory Committee's slate for the Nominating Committee has been declared elected. Those elected are:

June Axinn (social work), chairman
James C. Davis (history)
Sherman Frankel (physics)
Peter J. Freyd (mathematics)
Larry Gross (communications)
John A. Kastor (medicine)
Janice Madden (regional science)
Robert Maddin (metals & materials science)
Robert C. Regan (English)

(Editors Note: See the January 31 Almanac for the 11 Senate posts to be filled by the Nominating Committee for 1978-79.)

Submissions on Judicial System Invited

The recently formed Ad Hoc Committee to review the University Judicial System invites written submissions from University students, faculty and staff. Committee discussions have focused on clarifying the judiciary's role on campus and on procedural concerns.

Members of the committee are: Mary G. Beermann, director of residential living; Charles L. Cherry, assistant to the vice-president for administration; Andrew J. Condon, director of student life; Marc Falkowitz, Wharton '78; David Johnston, director of public safety; Daniel D. Perlmutter, chairman, chemical and biochemical engineering; Joyce M. Randolph (chairperson), assistant professor of Germanic languages and literatures; James H. Robinson, judicial administrator; and Martin J. Stamm, judicial inquiry officer.

Please address submissions to Dr. Joyce M. Randolph, chairperson, 745 Williams Hall/CU.

D.P. Install New Staff

The staff of Almanac congratulates the 94th Editorial Board of The Daily Pennsylvanian on their installation. Taking the reins at the D.P. are Steve Dubow, executive editor; Steven A. Marquez, managing editor; Gregory P. Oussani, business manager; Elizabeth Sanger, news editor; and other staff members too numerous to name here. May the deadlines be met without crisis, the typographical errors be few, and the editorial rewards many.

Grant Deadlines

Library Agreement Reached

On Tuesday, January 31, 1978 the employees of the library support staff, represented by the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, Local 590, ratified a new collective bargaining agreement. The new contract provides for a five percent wage increase for each year of the two-year agreement, which expires on November 1, 1979 with no increase in benefits.

The library administration was successful in obtaining language modifications which allow them to use student and part-time employees to fill certain positions and vacancies in the bargaining unit. This new provision will give the library administration greater flexibility in utilizing the current work force as well as more opportunities for cost savings.

—Gerald L. Robinson, Executive Director of Personnel Relations

Competitions Announced

University of Pennsylvania Chapter Society of Sigma XI announces two competitions, one for finishing Ph.D. candidates and another for junior faculty.

Thesis competition:
4/1 Several prizes totalling $1,000 will be awarded to finishing Ph.D. candidates whose theses in an area of scientific endeavor are judged outstanding. Abstracts should be submitted by the thesis advisor to: Dr. Henry Primakoff, 2N3D Rittenhouse Lab/El.

Grant-in-aid of research:
4/1 Two grants-in-aid of research, valued at $1,000 each, will be awarded to junior faculty. Proposals of research projects in any area of science may be sent to: Dr. Henry Primakoff, 2N3D Rittenhouse Lab/El.

Sigma XI, the Scientific Research Society of North America, is actively seeking new members to enable them to maintain and expand their awards program. Graduate students with publications are eligible for full membership. Nomination forms may be obtained from Dr. Peter Dodson, 229E Vet School/H1.
Speaking Out

One University: Excellent and Solvent
To the Editor:

The state legislature's passage of our appropriation has for a time relieved our immediate financial problems, but the University faces serious, more basic problems. There are educational difficulties, inflation, uncertain funding sources, an image problem, internal dissonance, and a lack of confidence in the administration's ability to solve these difficulties. What is needed is a concerted effort to make "One University" more than a public relations slogan: It should become the basis for a revival of this University's fortunes.

There are two prerequisites for any meaningful solution to our problems. First, the administration must commit itself to a truly balanced budget, achieved by selective cuts. The budget must not be balanced through general, across the board cuts, which has been the pattern in the past and has led many to question the University's commitment to "selective excellence." Though the administration may view the general cuts as politically safer, I submit that the political liability of general cuts is now higher than that of selective cuts. A corollary to a budget balanced through selective cuts is the maintaining and strengthening of our responsibility budgeting system.

A second prerequisite is detente with the professional schools. The core of this University's excellence lies in these schools—particularly Medicine, Law, Wharton and Engineering. The administration must explicitly recognize and respond to the needs of the professional faculties—as well as expect them to make sacrifices in the interests of progress and unity.

Implementation

The revitalization must come primarily from the implementation of the One University concept, though perhaps not in the way its creators intended. Members of the professional faculties should accept joint appointments in appropriate FAS departments; they can thus broaden their own scholarly pursuits while promoting the mutual acceptance of colleagues in different schools.

In addition, new structures need to be developed. Institutes should be established linking schools, departments, and individuals concerned with the study of both the theoretical and the applied aspects of broad areas of knowledge such as Life Sciences (the biomedical faculty), Management (Wharton, law, public and urban policy, social work, and the political science, economics and sociology departments), Physical Sciences (the College of Engineering and Applied Science and the physics, chemistry, geology, mathematics, and astronomy departments) and Communication (education, Annenberg, English, linguistics, and foreign languages departments). The professional school deans should play a major role in managing these clusters as a means of giving their faculties a stake in the system.

The University Ph.D. programs must also undergo a fundamental change in concept. Doctoral students should be viewed as an educational resource rather than a revenue source, the cost of doctoral education in the University (with the help of grants from external sources) as a whole. Faculty, particularly in the arts and sciences who teach doctoral candidates would be supported by a Graduate Resource Center. This center would relieve FAS by explicitly providing a subvention. It would not in any way affect either the common FAS Ph.D. degree or the control of graduate education by the individual faculties and graduate groups.

Public Funding

The recent problems surrounding our state appropriation should indicate that the University faces a far more serious problem: how to reconcile financial dependence on the public sector with academic freedom. The University finds itself increasingly exposed to pressures from the federal, state and local governments. The problem is not what the University is forced to do, but whether its mission of research and teaching is possible in the face of such pressures. Though it is unrealistic to renounce all public sector funding right now, this is not an unrealistic long-range goal if we establish a basic principle: Every dollar the University receives from a government should be for a specific, well documented, publicly known purpose. (Thus, our relationships with the Commonwealth and the New England states to provide training to their citizens in veterinary medicine are proper because there is a quid pro quo; for the same reason, general instruction funds from the Commonwealth should not be accepted.) If the strings attached to funds accepted under this principle become too onerous, we should not be afraid to cut them.

Image Problem

Finally, let me turn to the University's image problem. It is a product of comparisons with Harvard and the Ivy League and of the overall image of Philadelphia. To some extent, the problem will be solved as we improve the University. Three additional steps, however, should be employed: First, there must be an explicit recognition that we have an image problem. Second, one talented administrator, untainted by past failures in this area, should be designated "external relations and communications czar" and be given responsibility over development, alumni relations, government relations, international programs, public information services and related offices. Third, the first major task of this new official should be the building of a unified concept of the University. This University does have a distinctive character. Our problem is to find a way to express it that everyone can accept.

The basic premise of this proposal is that we have the resources—human and financial—to improve the University. What is needed is unity of purpose and trust in each other. We need to forget past and present disagreements and become "One University."

—Randall Marks, Law School, '80

Letters Welcome

Almanac invites all members of the University community—administration, faculty, staff, and students—to submit letters on relevant University issues to Speaking Out. —The Editors

Speaking Out is a forum for readers' comment on University issues, conducted under the auspices of the Almanac Advisory Board: Robert L. Shayon, chairman; Herbert Callen, Fred Karush, Ann R. Miller and Robert F. Lucid for the Faculty Senate; Paul Gay for the Librarians Assembly; Shirley Hill for the Administrative Assembly; and Virginia Hill Upright for the A-3 Assembly. Copies of Almanac's guidelines for readers and contributors may be obtained from Almanac's offices at 514-515 Franklin Building.
Honors

Dr. Robert E. Davies, Benjamin Franklin University Professor of Molecular Biology, Department of Animal Biology, School of Veterinary Medicine, has been elected an honorary life member of the New York Academy of Sciences. He was one of 18 elected this year to the 150-member world-wide group.

James O. Freedman, associate dean of the Law School and professor of law, was elected chairman of the Section on Administrative Law at the annual meeting of the Association of American Law Schools in December.

Dr. Roland M. Frye, professor of English, was elected president of the Milton Society of America at its annual meeting in December.

Dr. Daniel Hoffman, professor of English and director of Penn's creative writing program, delivered a lecture at the Library of Congress, January 5, commemorating the 100th anniversary of the poet Carl Sandburg’s birth. Dr. Hoffman, who was the consultant in poetry to the Library of Congress in 1973-74, titled his lecture, “Moonlight Dries No Mittens: Carl Sandburg Reconsidered.”

Dr. Charles P. O’Brien, associate professor of psychiatry, has been appointed to the Committee on Substance Abuse and Habitual Behavior of the National Academy of Sciences.

Dr. Arnold Thackray, professor of the history and sociology of science, has been elected editor of Isis: An International Journal of the History of Science and Its Cultural Influences, the official journal of the History of Science Society. Isis will be published from Pennsylvania during the period of Dr. Thackray’s editorialship.

Appointments

Following are Appointments approved by the Trustees between May 27, 1977 and November 23, 1977. They are based on actions taken by the Provost’s Staff Conference.

Two symbols appear in this text:
A bullet (*) before a Standing Faculty name indicates that the faculty member achieved tenure in 1977.
An asterisk (*) after an Associated Faculty name indicates that the faculty member is a Clinician-Educator in the 10-year tenure track at the School of Medicine.

For a description of the structure of the academic staff and definitions of Standing and Associated Faculty, refer to Almanac Supplement, April 19, 1976, pp. IV-V ("Draft Revision of Basic Documents on Academic Governance of the University of Pennsylvania").

Faculty of Arts and Sciences

Standing Faculty

Dr. Thomas A. Bauman, Assistant Professor of Music.
Dr. Elizabeth Block, Assistant Professor of Clinical Studies.
Dr. David Dumville, Assistant Professor of English.
*Dr. A. John Graham, Professor of Classical Studies.
Dr. Harvey J. Grid, Assistant Professor of Psychology.
Dr. Jerome W. Hoffman, Assistant Professor of Mathematics.
*Dr. John E. Jackson, Associate Professor of Political Science.
Dr. William D. Leader, Assistant Professor of Astronomy.
Dr. E. Ann Matter, Assistant Professor of Religious Studies.
Dr. Charles A. McGibbon, Assistant Professor of Mathematics.
Dr. Peter McInerney, Associate Professor of English.
Dr. Barbara Mertz, Assistant Professor of History and South Asia Regional Studies.
Dr. Yoshikazu Ohashi, Assistant Professor of Geology.
Dr. James E. Pires, Professor of Political Science.
Dr. Gary Schmidgall, Assistant Professor of English.
*Dr. Nathan Sivin, Professor of Oriental Studies. (See Secondary Appointments, FAS.)
Dr. James A. Spady, Assistant Professor of Political Science.
Dr. Richard Warner, Assistant Professor of Philosophy.
*Dr. Anthony Zee, Associate Professor of Physics.
*Dr. Larzer Ziff, Professor of English.

Associated Faculty

Dr. Laidi R. Cornwell Jr., Research Assistant Professor of Physics.
Dr. John J. Hershberg, Visiting Associate Professor of Music.
Dr. John Kirtley, Research Assistant Professor of Physics.
Dr. David J. McFarland, Visiting Professor of Psychology.
Dr. Thomas Metcalf, Visiting Professor of Indian History.
Dr. Michael E. Stone, Visiting Associate Professor of Religious Studies.
Dr. Yasushi Wada, Visiting Professor of Physics.
Dr. Alan G. Wilson, Adjunct Professor of Regional Science.

Secondary Appointments

Dr. Dell H. Hymes (Professor of Folklore and Folk Life and Linguistics) Professor of Sociology.
Dr. Setha Low (Assistant Professor of Landscape Architecture and Regional Planning, Graduate School of Fine Arts) Assistant Professor of Anthropology.
Dr. Richard Marston (Associate Professor of Finance) Associate Professor of Economics. (See Standing Faculty Promotions, Wharton School.)
Dr. Donald S. Murray (Professor of Statistics) South Asia Regional Studies.
Dr. Henry Riecken (Professor of Behavioral Sciences, School of Medicine) Psychology and Professor of Sociology.
Dr. Daniel Rose (Assistant Professor of Landscape Architecture and Regional Planning, Graduate School of Fine Arts) Assistant Professor of Anthropology.
Dr. Nathan Sivin (Professor of Oriental Studies) Professor of History and Sociology of Science. (See Standing Faculty Appointments, FAS.)
Dr. James M. Sprague (Leidy Professor of Anatomy, School of Medicine) Psychology.
Dr. Brian Sutton-Smith (Professor of Education, Graduate School of Education) Folklore and Folk Life. (See Standing Faculty Appointments, Graduate School of Education.)
Dr. Arnold W. Thackray (Professor of History and Sociology of Science) Professor of History.

Changes in Department

Dr. William R. Coe, Professor, to Department of Anthropology.
Dr. William Davenport, Professor, to Department of Anthropology.
*Dr. Keith DeVries, Associate Professor, to Department of Anthropology.
*Dr. G. Roger Edwards, Associate Professor, to Department of Anthropology.
Dr. Chester Gorman, Assistant Professor, to Department of Anthropology.

Graduate School of Education

Standing Faculty

Dr. Shirley Bric Heith, Associate Professor of Education.
Dr. Paul A. McDermott, Assistant Professor of Education.
*Dr. Brian Sutton-Smith, Professor of Education. (See Secondary Appointments, FAS.)

Graduate School of Fine Arts

Standing Faculty

Dr. Peter G. Skaller, Assistant Professor of Landscape Architecture and Regional Planning.

Law School

Standing Faculty

*Morris S. Arnold, Professor of Law.

School of Dental Medicine

Standing Faculty

Dr. Ellis E. Galuah, Assistant Professor of Biochemistry.
Dr. Daniel Malamud, Associate Professor of Biochemistry.

Associated Faculty

Dr. David M. Senseman, Research Assistant Professor of Pharmacology.

Secondary Appointments

Dr. Patricia Cormier (Assistant Professor of Periodontics) Dental Care Systems. (See Other Changes, School of Dental Medicine.)
Dr. Martin Morad (Associate Professor of Physiology, School of Medicine) Associate Professor of Physiology/Psychology.

Other Changes

Dr. Daniel Castillo to Clinical Assistant Professor of Form and Function of the Masticatory System.
Dr. Patricia Cormier, Assistant Professor, to Department of Periodontics. (See Secondary Appointments, School of Dental Medicine.)
Emeritus Professors
Dr. Jerre Mangione, Emeritus Professor of English.
Dr. William Roach, Emeritus Professor of Romance Languages.
Dr. Edward C. Rosenow, Jr., Emeritus Clinical Professor of Medicine.
Dr. Harold G. Schrie, Emeritus William F. Norris and George E. DeSchweinitz Professor of Ophthalmology.
Dr. Max Silverstein, Emeritus Professor of Social Work.

Designations to Named Professorships
Dr. Stanley Baum as the first Dr. Eugene P. Pendergrass Professor of Radiology.
Dr. Sidney Cohen as the first T. Grier Miller Professor of Medicine.
Dr. David R. Trentham as Edwin M. Chance Professor of Biochemistry and Biophysics.
Dr. Myron Yanoff as William E. Norris and George E. DeSchweinitz Professor of Ophthalmology. (See Secondary Appointments, School of Medicine.)

School of Medicine
Standing Faculty
Dr. Marc P. Banner, Assistant Professor of Radiology.
*Dr. Robert L. Goodman, Associate Professor of Radiation Therapy.
Dr. Sheldon Goldberg, Assistant Professor of Medicine.
Dr. Steven D. Handler, Assistant Professor of Otolaryngology and Human Communication.
Dr. Leonard N. Horowitz, Assistant Professor of Medicine. (See Secondary Appointments, School of Medicine.)
*Dr. Neil R. Krieger, Assistant Professor of Pharmacology.
Dr. George H. Lambert, Assistant Professor of Pediatrics.
Dr. Neil A. Rubinstein, Assistant Professor of Anatomy.
*Dr. Marshall D. Schechter, Professor of Child Psychiatry.
Dr. Jerome O. Sugar, Assistant Professor of Otolaryngology and Human Communication.
Dr. John L. Turner, Assistant Professor of Medicine.

Associated Faculty
Dr. Edward T. Auer, Clinical Professor of Psychiatry.
Dr. Amanda Sue Carlisle, Research Assistant Professor of Medicine.
Dr. William Mason, Research Assistant Professor of Microbiology.
Dr. Robert H. Moser, Adjunct Professor of Medicine.
Dr. George Preti, Research Assistant Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology.
Dr. Lawrence Schein, Research Assistant Professor of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation.
Dr. I.A. Silver, Adjunct Professor of Neurology.
Dr. Roberto Weinmann, Research Assistant Professor of Microbiology.
Dr. Peter White, Professor of Medicine, Presbyterian-University of Pennsylvania Medical Center.

Secondary Appointments
Dr. Stephen Blose (Research Assistant Professor of Pathology, School of Veterinary Medicine) Pathology.
Dr. Hugh Bonner, Jr. (Clinical Assistant Professor of Pathology) Assistant Clinical Professor of Medicine. (See Other Changes, School of Medicine.)
Dr. John R. Durocher (Clinical Assistant Professor of Medicine) Clinical Assistant Professor of Medicine in Pathology.
Dr. Robert E. Forster (Professor of Physiology) Professor of Physiology in Pediatrics.
Dr. Robert A. Hirsh (Assistant Professor of Anesthesiology) Assistant Professor of Anesthesiology and Rehabilitation.
Dr. Leonard N. Horowitz (Assistant Professor of Medicine) Pediatrics. (See Standing Faculty, School of Medicine.)
Dr. George H. Lambert (Assistant Professor of Pediatrics) Obstetrics and Gynecology. (See Standing Faculty, School of Medicine.)
Dr. Robert W. Mack (Assistant Professor of Pediatrics, Children's Hospital) Assistant Professor of Pediatrics in Research Medicine.
Dr. Giuseppe G. Pietro (Professor of Pathology) Professor of Pathology in Medicine. (See Standing Faculty Promotions, School of Medicine.)

Other Changes
Dr. Bah. H. Athreya to Assistant Professor of Pediatrics, Children's Hospital.*
Dr. Edward Berman to Assistant Professor of Psychiatry, Marriage Council of Philadelphia.
Dr. George P. Bhattacharjee to Clinical Assistant Professor of Neurology.
Dr. Ronald J. Bolognese to Associate Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology, Pennsylvania Hospital.*
Dr. Hugh Bonner, Jr., to Assistant Clinical Professor of Pathology. (See Secondary Appointments, School of Medicine.)
Dr. Peter A. Cassileth to Associate Professor of Medicine, Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania.*
Dr. Cynthia W. Cooke to Assistant Clinical Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology.
Dr. James R. Leyden to Assistant Professor of Dermatology, Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania.*
Dr. Philip Littman, Assistant Professor of Radiation Therapy, Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania.*
Dr. Jeffrey Myers to Clinical Assistant Professor of Pathology.
Dr. Oscar A. Ross to Assistant Clinical Professor of Pathology.
Dr. Harold L. Rutenberg to Associate Professor of Medicine, Pennsylvania Hospital.*
Dr. Emery K. Stone to Clinical Professor of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation.

School of Nursing
Associated Faculty
Bridget Doerr, Adjunct Assistant Professor of Nursing.

School of Social Work
Standing Faculty
Dr. James O. Carpenter, Associate Professor of Social Work.

School of Veterinary Medicine
Associated Faculty
Dr. William C. Campbell, Adjunct Professor of Parasitology.

Other Changes
Dr. Ara Dervanian to Adjunct Professor of Animal Biology.
*Dr. Bernard H. Shapiro to Assistant Professor of Biochemistry, Department of Animal Biology.

Wharton School
Standing Faculty
Howard A. Cohen, Associate Professor in Public Sector Management.
Dr. Joyce Johnson Elam, Assistant Professor of Decision Sciences.
Dr. William Joyce, Assistant Professor of Management.
Dr. Marilyn L. Morgan, Assistant Professor of Management.
Dr. Vladimir M. Sachar, Assistant Professor of Social Systems Sciences.
Dr. Virginia E. Schein, Associate Professor of Management.
Dr. Paul Schoemaker, Assistant Professor of Management.

Promotions
The following Promotions were approved by the Trustees between May 27, 1977 and November 23, 1977. They are based on actions taken by the Provost's Staff Conference. For explanation of symbols, see the introduction to Appointments, page 4.

Faculty of Arts and Sciences
Standing Faculty
Dr. Dan Ben-Amos to Professor of Folklore and Folklore (has tenure).
Dr. Barry S. Cooper to Professor of Chemistry (has tenure).
Dr. James C. Davis to Professor of History (has tenure).
Dr. Augusta E. Foley to Professor of Romance Languages (has tenure).
* Dr. Stephen Gale to Associate Professor of Regional Science.

Dr. Rochel Gelman to Professor of Psychology (has tenure).
Dr. Robert M. Hartwell to Professor of History (has tenure).
Dr. Alan W. Heston to Professor of South Asia Regional Studies (has tenure).
Dr. Igor Kopytoff to Professor of Anthropology (has tenure).
Dr. Jack Nagel to Associate Professor of Political Science.
Dr. Daniel N. Osherson to Associate Professor of Psychology.
Dr. Neil Painter to Associate Professor of History.
Dr. E. Ward Plummer to Professor of Physics (has tenure).
Dr. Jack E. Reese to Associate Professor of History.
Dr. Lewis G. Tilney to Professor of Biology (has tenure).
Dr. David T. Van Zandt to Associate Professor of History of Art.

Graduate School of Fine Arts
Standing Faculty
Dr. Anthony Tomazinis to Professor of City and Regional Planning (has tenure).
Associated Faculty
John Lawson to Adjunct Assistant Professor of Architecture.
Louis Sauer to Adjunct Professor of Architecture.
John Thrower to Adjunct Associate Professor of Architecture.

Passengers wanting to return to campus after 6:30 p.m. may call Security (243-7297), who will notify the bus driver that passengers will be waiting on a particular corner at an appointed time. Outbound passengers may ask the driver to take them to their nearest corner from 6:40 p.m. on.

Older Patients Needed for Study

The Departments of Neurology and Psychiatry have announced a study investigating drug treatment for older patients suffering from nervous disorders related to circulatory disease. Candidates should suffer from one or more of these symptoms: confusion, loss of memory or senility. They should have a diagnosed circulatory disease, or high blood pressure, diabetes or obesity, or they may be smokers. Participants will receive a comprehensive medical evaluation before treatment is begun.

Evaluation and treatment will be entirely on an out-patient basis, and patients will be compensated up to $100 plus expenses.

Referrals of appropriate patients between the ages of 50 and 85 are now being accepted. Call Dr. Weinberger or Ms. Steber at 662-2665.

Free Women's School Announces Schedule

The new semester for the Free Women's School begins February 19 with courses in, among other subjects: body awareness, women's literature, assertiveness training and vegetarian cooking. Registration starts February 8. For information, call SA7-0830.

Directory Assistance: Watch Those Calls

Effective February 12, 1978, Bell of Pennsylvania will institute a charge of $10c per call for directory assistance within the 215 area. Only three free calls will be allowed per extension number per month. In order to minimize the need for using directory assistance, each department should have sets of directories for the metropolitan Philadelphia area. Directory order forms will be distributed to business administrators this week. Offices should submit their requirements through their business administrators.

Director of Transportation & Communications

Moviegoers Take Note

The Ritz Three theaters of Society Hill offer special discount admissions for students and faculty of area universities and colleges. Regular $1 discounts are available, with identification, for all evening performances except Saturdays.

Keep Us Informed

Please submit information about your department’s activities that are open to the University public this semester to Kate Hill in the Student Life Office, Houston Hall, Ext. 7853, by February 28, 1978, for inclusion in a new University Calendar, to appear bi-weekly.

Openings

The following listings are condensed from the Personnel Office's Bulletin of February 2. Dates in parentheses refer to the Almanac issue in which a complete job description appeared. Bulletin boards in 13 locations throughout the campus list full descriptions. Those interested should contact Personnel Services, Ext. 7285. The University of Pennsylvania is an equal opportunity employer. The two figures in salary listings show minimum starting salary and maximum starting salary (midpoint). An asterisk (*) before a job title indicates that the department is considering promoting from within.
